

I just wanted to thank you for arranging our student tour of the cemetery, and for connecting us with Janet. From our first emails, she was such a generous, thoughtful, passionate, inspiring friend to the class that it honestly made the daunting idea of coming to New York easier for me. She gave great directions and suggestions, facilitated our connection with ease. Her tour was knowledgeable and interesting, her manner engaging. We were honored to invite her to share dinner with us afterwards. The students have not stopped mentioning how much she added to our trip. She's terrific. Again, thank you and all the best, Diana

Diana York Blaine, Ph.D

Director of Undergraduate Studies, Department of Gender and Sexuality
Professor, Gender Studies and Writing Program
University of Southern California