7:45 pm | Minha/Arbit service, with tefillin

8:51 pm | End of Fast & Habdala (on wine only)

The Fast of the Ninth of Ab three weeks after the Fast of Tammuz commemorates the breaching of the Temple Mount fortifications and the dates of destruction of both the First and Second Temples. The dramatic service tells of the tragedy of the destruction and sings the dirges of mourning for the Temple. Our Spanish & Portuguese service's rich musical tradition for the service on this day may go back to the time of the Spanish Expulsion, the anniversary of which is also observed on this date.

A Note on Habdala

This year, the 9th day of the Month of Ab falls on Sunday, so that Shabbat Hazon becomes the Eve of the Fast of Ab. Saturday afternoon Minha is held early at 3:30 pm, so that all may go home to eat their Third Meal at suppertime and begin their fast by sunset (8:25), concluding Sabbath (at 9:07 by reciting "barukh hamabdil ben kodesh lehol") and returning to the synagogue for the Motza'e Shabbat/Fast of Ab Arbit Service, which is called for 9:30 pm. The service begins on this occasion with the hazzan reciting the blessing "bore meore haesh." On Sunday evening, the fast is concluded with habdala over a cup of wine, without spices and without a candle.
