Purim 1841
Zechariah Edinger
This past week we celebrated Rosh Hodesh Adar ushering in the Purim season. In this spirit reproduced below are two short articles published in the New York Herald Tribune from March 1841. [These were published online by the “On the Main Line” blog in 2012.]

March 3, 1841: On Saturday evening and on Sunday morning next, all pious Jews and Jewses attend the Synagogue, on which occasion the Book of Esther, Megillath Etan, will be chanted by brother Jacques Lyons, and perhaps by brother Willis, also, both very competent hazzanim, readers, and very from withal. On Sunday, most of the Jews will receive calls, similar to those made on New Year’s day. Tables will be set out, furnished with the choicest viands and liquors. Presents of various kinds will be given to the poor, whose hearts will, on this day at least, be made to rejoice. A piece of advice, and we close. Let there be no hammers or mallets used in the Crosby street, when the name of Haman is mentioned; but, in its proper place, let every one exclaim at the top of his voice, zchoret lehot. We wish you and all, a happy, happy Purim.

March 9, 1841: Purim - This feast, in commemoration of the Salvation of the Jews by the lovely Queen Esther, was very merrily and delightfully kept. We were deprived from visiting the Shule on account of the tremendous storms; and very sorry we are that we could not attend to the sweet chanting of the Megilla by the Reverend Jacques Lyons. We understand that there were only about forty-five who attended. On Sunday, however, it was somewhat pleasant; which afforded an excellent opportunity to hear the Megilla, and to pay Purim calls. The Spanish Jews behaved well throughout the day and evening; but some of our friends eat and drank too much. They must learn to deny themselves both in the Succah and on Purim day-, and indeed, on all other holy days. They must not "make their God their belly." We are happy to learn that no noise was made when the name of Haman was read, and also that with one shout of triumph every Hebrew cried out zchorot lehot after the word lehashbona, following the good advice of the Herald.

Some items of note: The Crosby Street Synagogue was in use from 1835 – 1860. Rev. Jacques Judah Lyons was Hazzan from 1839-1877. A beautiful plaque to his memory is located in the back of the synagogue. Discouraging the use of noisemakers and encouraging the shouting of "Zchor leHol" is still the custom today more than 170 years later. The author freely uses Yiddish words like shul and forsh – but also appears to have a Sephardic bent criticizing the Ashkenazim (Tiche = Deutsche) for eating and drinking to excess on the holiday.

An Evening at Museo Ebraico,
the Jewish Museum of Rome
Wednesday, February 25 | Doors Open at 7:30 pm
Dr. Giacomo Moscati, Vice President of the Jewish museum of Rome and Joyce Sarner, documentarian and program curator, will offer a stunning visual tour of the museum and its magnificent silver and textile collections. The program will delve into stories of the families that made up a small but highly multicultural Jewish society that was forced to reinvent itself in segregation. The presentation will cover the history of the Roman ghetto, the construction of the Great Temple, and the story of how the treasures were saved from Nazi looting. Free and open to the public.

Pre-Purim Baking Class
Sponsored by the Shearith Israel League
Thursday, February 26 | 7:00 pm
Come join baker Rivka Mallet to learn how to put a new spin on the traditional "Oznei Haman." We will learn (and taste) the secrets of making scrumptious Fazuelos, a Sephardic style of Hamantaschen. Children and adults are welcome. Cost: $10 per person, children under 13 are free. For questions, contact Rivka Shoulson at rivyet@gmail.com. To register, go to shearithisrael.org/purimbaking.

Women’s Megillah Reading
Celebrate 25 years of women reading the Megillah on Purim morning at Shearith Israel. Contact Mrs. Lisa Rohde at lirohde-csi@yahoo.com to participate.

Sisterhood Purim Greeting Card Project
This year, the Sisterhood is offering the opportunity to send Mishloah Manot notifications to members of our congregation and support both the Sisterhood’s important works and the Synagogue’s Mishloah Manot project for seniors and the homebound at the same time (a portion of your contribution will be directed to the Congregational project which distributes Mishloah Manot to the elderly and homebound.) Fill out and return the form on the racks outside Levy Auditorium by mail with a check, or go online at shearithisrael.org/sisterhoodmanot fill out the form and pay by credit card. For more information, please contact Mrs. Lisa Rohde at lirohde-csi@yahoo.com or Mrs. Carla Schein at scheinc6@gmail.com.

Megillah Reading and Purim Community Dinner
Wednesday, March 4 | 6:30 pm
Join us for Megillah reading in our beautiful Main Sanctuary while children ages 3-10 are treated to a special Purim puppet show with Wondersparks—“Esther Saves the Day: A Purim Shpiel.” After Megillah, all are welcome to join us for a festive community dinner. While Rabbi Soloveichik captivates us with a Purim talk, our younger members will be entertained by Balloon Twisters, a Magician, and a costume parade. Babysitting will be provided. To register, go to shearithisrael.org/purimdinner. Sponsorship opportunities available.

Mishloah Manot Deliveries
Help fulfill a beautiful mitzvah and bring joy into someone’s life. Help us deliver Mishloah Manot packages to the elderly and homebound after Megillah reading on Purim night, March 4 and Purim day, March 5. Volunteer by emailing Alana Shultz at ashultz@shearithisrael.org. Alana will then send you a link so that you can sign up to deliver to addresses that are convenient to you. See Alana to pick up the packages.
