The American Heritage Haggadah has an unusual photograph taken in 1919, featuring Jewish GIs in a Pullman car on a siding in the railroad yards of Detroit, Michigan, celebrating the first night of Pesah. These soldiers, Geffen explains, were “returning from Europe were on their way to Camp Grant, near Chicago, to be discharged. When it became clear that they could not get to Illinois in time for the beginning of Pesach, the Jewish Welfare Board arranged a seder for them on the train route, and obtained a rabbi to officiate, in the dining car, for what may have been the first and last train seder in history.”

And as I pondered this picture I realized that a train car is actually the perfect place to celebrate Passover. After all, Pesah marked the first great Jewish journey and therefore the first great national act of faith. “I remember the loving loyalty of your youth,” God says in Jeremiah, “that you followed me into the desert, into an unsown land.”

I thought of the “train seder” when I read a moving reflection by Aaron Katz, who moved to Beit Shemesh from Chicago. Katz commutes daily to Tel Aviv by train, on which there is a morning minyan; as a Kohen, he participates in a moving—in both senses of the word—priestly blessing for his fellow travelers. The words of the blessing, he reflects, have taken on a whole new meaning: “On a train filled with the spectrum of Israeli society, I have a unique opportunity to provide the passengers, including the soldiers and police officers who risk their lives to defend the State of Israel, with a blessing of protection and peace.”

Katz marvels at the miracle of the life he lives; the Talmud, he notes, speaks of the priestly blessing radiating from the synagogue to those Jews working in the fields, and now he is reciting those blessings in a reborn Jewish state as it quite literally moves through the flourishing fields of the holy land.

The miracle that is the Jewish journey continues today. As we, on Pesah, prepare to remember when this journey began, may we be blessed with peace as the journey continues, and may there be many more miracles yet to come.
A MESSAGE FROM OUR PARNAS

ARCHIVAL ITEMS ON LOAN

Dear Congregants:

In the two most recent Bulletins (Summer 2017 and Fall/Winter 2017-18), I had the privilege, on behalf of the Board of Trustees, of announcing and updating the Congregation on our Year of Years Campaign – celebrating the first 365 years, a full “year of years”, that our Congregation has participated in the American experience. I am happy to report that we are progressing in our Year of Years Campaign, which will culminate in a major gala in 2019. The progress is along three different paths.

First, in terms of major gifts, as reported previously, we have commitments from four congregational families who will be among the twenty-three Sustaining Families for our next Year of Years. In addition, the entire Board of Trustees and other Congregational leaders have undertaken to use their own family resources to retire some expensive debt that was saddling our operations and to replace that debt with loans at dramatically lower interest rates. This dramatic act of Hesed will enable us to pay off the expensive debt and to repay the newer debt over a period of years without undue burden to the Congregation. It also improves our balance sheet in a way that the Board of Trustees feels puts us in an excellent position to attract other donors, major and minor, to the Year of Years Campaign. These acts of generosity by our Board and Congregational leaders resemble acts of our past congregants, who gave so much to enable us to enjoy our glorious Synagogue and its physical and spiritual appurtenances to this day.

Second, in terms of full community participation, we have hired a fundraising consultant, and several of our members have volunteered, to begin actively soliciting congregants over the course of the next year. You will be hearing from them. Please respond generously.

Third, and most importantly, Rabbi Soloveichik has announced the first of the special programming is an integral part of our Year of Years Celebration. The major symposium, entitled Passover and the American Imagination, will take place on Sunday, March 18, 2018, and promises to be truly extraordinary. Participants will get to view rarely exhibited archival materials, such as Thomas Jefferson’s letter to Mordecai Manuel Noah; hear lectures and conversations with eminent scholars such as Rabbi Soloveichik and Lincoln historian, Harold Holzer; and learn remarkable lessons of liberty from the American Jewish historical narrative, which, together with a custom created Passover Reader, will prepare and energize us for this year’s Passover Haggadah (or Seder). The Symposium will be followed by a festive luncheon, where we will pay tribute to our Hatanim for this year, Simon Salama-Caro, Hatan Torah, and Robert Kapito, Hatan Bereshit. We look forward to seeing everyone there.

The vast archives of which Shearith Israel is the proud caretaker are arguably the most important and largest private collection of American Jewish historical materials. We receive frequent requests from prestigious institutions for permission to display these priceless Jewish artifacts, manuscripts, and ritual objects. It requires substantial resources for Shearith Israel to maintain their condition and historicity, to share them with institutions near and far, and, most importantly, to keep these ritual objects in active ritual use. As part of our Year of Years Celebration, we will be highlighting examples that demonstrate our commitment to sharing our history while perpetuating the observance of our ritual and tradition.

MINHAG MATTERS

BeKol Simha – A Forgotten Poem for Shabu’ot
Zachary Edinger, Ritual Director/Shamash

Well-known within our congregation is a special poem sung to honor the Hatanim on Simhat Torah called Tenu Shebaḥa. It is a simple poem with a beautiful melody that has become a much loved highlight of the holiday. This piyyut (liturgical poem) is recited only in our congregation, as its melody and words were composed by the Hazzan Jacques Judah Lyons. Lyons served Shearith Israel from 1839 to 1877. He had a very long tenure and meticulously recorded our customs in great detail and was an influential figure in the perpetuation of our minhag. In the archives of the synagogue, I recently came across a letter written in 1841 by Rev. Lyons to the Board of Trustees detailing the order of the Shabu’ot service. Interestingly, the letter contains a special poem for the consecration anniversary of the Crosby Street synagogue, which was built in 1834. The poem was to be sung by the Hazzan at the conclusion of the evening service on the eve of the first day of Shabu’ot, after Yigdal. It is a short and simple rhyme and is very similar in form to Lyons’s more lasting composition, Tenu Shebaḥa. Although minor in significance, this poem is another example of Hebrew poetry composed in early America.* I have yet to discover when or why it ceased to be a part of our Shabu’ot service or what melody it was sung to. Nevertheless, the text is presented here for the first time (with a very loose translation of my own):

With sounds of joy and sounds of prayer –
This day for God Almighty we will declare.

For this is the day the Lord did make –
Let us rejoice in it and celebrate.

Oh, please flower and cause to blossom
this place so terribly awesome.

We pray for the sanctuary pure and clean.
Please, oh Lord, Exalted, Supreme.

Shine forth the pillar of light – and build the chosen Temple site!

Jews and Voting in Early America: The Fight for Civil Rights
In 1819, Isaac Lopez Brandon found himself at the unhappy center of a heated dispute about Jews and civil rights in Barbados. Although initially the debate was regarding a petition to the legislature to grant Jews civil rights, ultimately the controversy spiraled into a fight about race and Jews that led to Isaac being denied full rights in the synagogue. Isaac’s struggle was not unique. Between 1776-1826, Jews across the Atlantic World found themselves in the center of debates about what qualified men for citizenship. Even within the United States, Jewish rights varied wildly by state. Although the founding documents of the United States granted Jews freedom of religion, the founders did not clearly give Jews political rights. As late as 1840, five states still subjected Jews to disabilities. Between 1776-1840, Jewish men in the fledgling United States and across the Atlantic World struggled to secure their right to vote and serve in government. In this talk she will highlight how the Jewish struggle for rights shed light on the larger history of race and rights in America.

Sefhardic Country Houses
Monday, April 30 | 7:00 PM

In the 1730s, Sephardic luminaries Moshe Chaim Luzzatto (the Ramchal) was vacationing at Doornburgh, the country house of his patron and pupil Jacob de Chaves. Doornburgh was in many ways the archetypal eighteenth-century Dutch country house, but with a Sephardic twist. To be sure, there were the decorations: scenes from the Hebrew Bible painted on the walls. More importantly, however, was the environment in which Doornburgh was set. While non-Jews were free to establish their country estates as an escape from society, Dutch Jews built their rural mansions in easy walking distance of Maarssen’s Portuguese synagogue. Neighbors in town became neighbors in the pastoral beauty of the Vecht River. In this talk, Professor Leibman introduces the beautiful Jewish country houses built along the Vecht. In the second half of the lecture, she turns westward and shows how early Sephardic immigrants to the Americas adapted the country house life to the desert island of Curaçao, where nearly ninety Jewish country houses remain today.

Laura Arnold Leibman is Professor of English and Humanities at Reed College in Portland, Oregon. Her work focuses on religion and the daily lives of women and children in early America, and uses everyday objects to help bring their stories back to life. She is the author of Indian Converts (U Mass Press, 2008) and Mesianism, Secrecy and Mysticism: A New Interpretation of Early American Jewish Life (Valentine Mitchell, 2012), which won a National Jewish Book Award, a Jordan Schnitzer Book Award from the Association for Jewish Studies, and was selected as one of Choice’s Outstanding Academic Titles for 2013. Professor Leibman earned her PhD from UCLA, is currently at work on a book that uses material culture to trace the history of members of a multiracial family who began their lives as slaves in the Caribbean and became some of the wealthiest Jews in New York. She is currently the Leon Levy Foundation Professor of Jewish Material Culture at Bard Graduate Center.

SPANISH CITIZENSHIP RECLAMATION FOR SEPHARDIM

Five hundred twenty-five years after the formal expulsion of my ancestors from Spain, I have become a Spanish citizen. It had been a long, arduous journey for my ancestors, and it has proven to be a complicated and demanding process to apply under Law 12/2015 that the Spanish government promulgated to grant such citizenship to Sephardic Jews or conversos who could prove that their ancestors were expelled from Spain because of the 1492 expulsion edict.

If you are thinking of applying under this Law, you must initiate the process by no later than October 1, 2018. You should register by then at the website of the Spanish Ministry of Justice: www.justicia.sefardies.notariado.org which has been specially created for Sephardim to utilize in applying for citizenship. After you have provided your information, they will send you an ID number (Identificación del Expediente) which you will need to enter whenever you log in. Your log-in name is your current passport number.

There are lawyers who specialize in helping candidates apply for citizenship. I chose to do it all by myself and will delineate the process, as I experienced it.

WHAT DO YOU NEED TO QUALIFY?
You need to prove that you are of Sephardic descent and that you have a special relationship to Spain.

I. Certificate from the FCJE
The first step is to prove your Sephardic status and obtain a Certificate from the Federación de las Comunidades Judías de España (FCJE). Their website is www.fcje.org. You will need to provide them with all the documents which support your claim that you are a descendant of Jews who were forced to leave Spain because of the 1492 expulsion edict.

Your documents need to be uploaded on to the FCJE Platform (Plataforma de solicitud de certificados de la condición de sefardí).

They will look at whether:

1) The last names in your family are found in lists of Sephardic names of Spanish origin which have been published. In my case, all four sides of my family had surnames that are recognized as Sephardic, such as Carasso, de Botton, Barzilai, and Arditi.

2) You will need to furnish your passport, your birth certificate, brit milah certificate, or Jewish marriage certificate (“ketubah”).

II. Procedure to Apply to the Ministry of Justice
Once you have obtained the FCJE Certificate, you should upload it to the www.justicia.sefardies.notariado.org website and fill out the application, which is an online process.

You will need to prove that you have some proficiency of Spanish, unless you are over 70 years of age. The law was amended in February 2017 to spare those older than 70 from having to take the two required tests.

If you are older than 18 and younger than 70, you will have to obtain a DELE A2 Certificate. This exam is designed to demonstrate that you have a basic knowledge of Spanish. It includes reading and oral comprehension, the writing of a short essay and submitting to a short interview in Spanish.

You will also need to acquire a CCSE Certificate. The CCSE test gauges your knowledge of the Spanish Constitution and of Spain’s social and cultural norms. You can study for the test on the Instituto Cervantes website.

You must also prove that you are not a criminal. You must submit recent certificates from local and nationwide enforcement agencies. The certificates must be less than six months old. I obtained Criminal Record Certificates from the New York City Police Department, the New York State Police and from the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

You are also asked to prove a special connection to Spain. In my case, I submitted critical reviews and articles, published in Spanish, about my book in which I discussed my Sephardic family’s close relationship with Spain. Any other circumstance you can cite to the authorities which demonstrates a special connection to Spain can help.

I also had the distinction that my paternal grandparents had been granted Spanish citizenship in Salonika in the early Twentieth Century, but such a proof is unusual and not necessary to qualify for naturalization under the Law.

All required documents must be translated by an approved translator and, when applicable, legalized (apostilled).

III. Notarial Act

After you have uploaded all your information, the application will be transmitted electronically to the General Directorate for Registers and Notaries (DGRN) in Madrid. If found satisfactory, you will be invited to make an appointment with a Notary and to bring your original documentation before the Notary. This must take place in Spain.

At the meeting, the Notary will prepare a Notarial Act and send your documents to the DGRN.

IV. Civil Registration

Ten months after my meeting with the Notary, my Application was approved. I was invited to promise allegiance to the King of Spain and to the Spanish Constitution and laws, before the Spanish Consul in New York City.

My birth certificate must then be sent to the Spanish Consulate of Alexandria, Egypt where I was born. That Consulate will issue me a Spanish Birth Certificate, and I will be given a Spanish passport. In true Spanish tradition, my name will be Lucienne Carasso de Botton!

CONCLUSION

Many people ask me why I bothered to go through this arduous process to become a dual U.S. and Spanish citizen. Initially, I thought that I could transmit the Spanish nationality to my grandchildren but discovered that I cannot do so directly. Adult children must apply on their own behalf. They can then pass such citizenship onto their offspring, provided they are still minors. I am not sorry that I have gone to all this trouble to obtain the citizenship. While researching family papers, I discovered that in the 1930s, my father had desperately tried to claim the Spanish citizenship of his parents, but that he had been refused because his father had failed to register him with the Spanish Consulate of Alexandria at the time of his birth. My father eventually became an Egyptian citizen, a nationality of which we were stripped in 1961, when we left Egypt. We then became stateless refugees. I feel that my obtaining the Spanish nationality is a vindication of my father’s love for Spain.

I understand that the process of applying for Portuguese citizenship is much less demanding once you can prove that your ancestors had to leave Portugal. You don’t have to take language tests.

THE MISUNDERSTOOD MASTERPIECE: A NEW APPROACH TO PIRKEI ABOT

Shabbat Afternoon, Year-Round
One Hour Before Minhah
Rabbi Meir Soloveichik

Pirkei Abot is often understood as a mere series of unrelated ethical adages. In fact, each brief and frequently cited maxim in Pirkei Abot actually hints at the extraordinary, and unique, life story and worldview of its rabbinic source. What’s more, the chapters of Abot are joined in a structure that tells the story of the transmission of the Oral Law. We will see how studying the history of the rabbinic figures cited lends an entirely new understanding to these statements, and how Abot represents the diverse response of the rabbis to an age of crisis and transition that was, in many ways, not unlike our own. Accompanied by seudah shlishit. Sponsorship opportunities are available. To find out more, go to shearithisrael.org/sponsoraclass.

Either way, your child will enjoy wading pool time (weather permitting). Indoors, our toddlers can enjoy the new Fidanque Room. Go to shearithisrael.org/toddler-summer-camp to register.

Layaliza is our congregation’s mourners/new parents meal volunteer coordinator and she makes every effort to ensure that the family’s preferences and requests are accommodated and that duplication of efforts are avoided.

CARING CONNECTION
Caring Connection, our Congregation’s hesed network, trains community members as sensitive volunteers, enabling them to proactively help others through times of need, one of Judaism’s greatest mitzvot. This vital assistance greatly aids the individual, and also strengthens and unifies our community, enhancing our sense of responsibility for one another. This group of volunteers responds to a variety of situations, both in times of difficulty, such as illness or mourning, and times of joy, such as the exciting and often overwhelming challenges accompanying the arrival of a new baby.

Our volunteers coordinate meals to those in need; arrange visits and phone calls to the elderly, homebound, and recuperating; and even provide transport or wheelchair assistance to those who wish to attend synagogue services or events.

If you know someone who might need assistance in any form, or would like to get involved as a volunteer yourself, please email caringconnection@shearithisrael.org.

If Caring Connection lacks the expertise or resources to provide appropriate assistance, we will do our best to direct people to other congregational and communal organizations.

Barbara Herlands Smith has been an Upper West Side Manhattanite all of her life, and Congregation Shearith Israel has been “home” for more than 55 of those years. Her immediate and extended family have been members over generations, and when she married her beloved Crown Heights husband, Myron, z”l, he too learned to love Shearith Israel as much as she does. They both always appreciated the magnificence of the Sanctuaries, the decorum, the elegance of and respect for the traditions and customs, the outstanding Choir, and the beauty of the Services. They have befriended—and love—many of their fellow congregants, for they feel that there is a real sense of family at Shearith Israel. The role the Congregation has played in Jewish and in American history only adds to its uniqueness, and to a sense of pride as they would sit in their designated seats on a Shabbat or Festival, and hopes that you, too, will try it and enjoy it.

Superb Chicken Breasts

by Barbara Herlands Smith

I had heard what happens on a November morning along Central Park West, my new neighborhood in Manhattan. This would be our first Thanksgiving Day in the city. It was a cold morning, but that was expected. But not everything I was about to experience was expected.

Children and parents were lined up shoulder to shoulder. You could sense the anticipation, even nervous energy. My ten-year-old daughter asked if it was time yet. I didn’t know what to expect or how to answer. I simply pointed her in a northerly direction and told her to watch.

Then it happened. The parade began. I watched as a steady stream of participants made their way my direction. I stood at the ready and before I knew it they were upon me. Smiling faces and rapidly moving legs and arms full of goodies.

The marching band sounds coming through the synagogue window overhead provided the perfect cadence for our basement parade of neighbors and friends who gathered up food items from long tables and carefully placed them into bags before dropping them into the boxes at my feet. I wasn’t prepared for the sense of celebration, the Thanksgiving spirit amid the controlled chaos. I heard some people that day call it a “Pack-A-Thon,” but to me it was the genuine Thanksgiving Day Parade.

Like both Shearith Israel and West End Collegiate Church, the Latter-day Saints are uniquely a New York church by origin. Perhaps this shared geographic heritage contributed in some way to the brotherly bonds we all felt that Thanksgiving morning. Thank you for including us. We couldn’t be any happier than to have been invited to join with you to serve our fellowmen and make new friends.

TISHA B’AB AT SHEARITH ISRAEL

July 21-22, 2018

Tisha B’Ab, the most solemn day of the Jewish calendar, commemorates the destruction of both the First and Second Temples in ancient Jerusalem. Over the years, this day has also come to remind us of other historic tragedies that have befallen the Jewish people. For Tisha B’Ab, the Reader’s Desk and Holy Ark are draped in black. The evening and morning services are conducted from a special table—also draped in black—rather than from the Reader’s Desk. The synagogue lights are dimmed, so that congregants follow services with small flashlights. The melodies of Tisha B’Ab are somber and deeply moving. The afternoon service on the day of Tisha B’Ab takes on an optimistic air. We focus on Isaiah’s words of consolation to the Jewish people: Nahamu nahamu ami, be comforted, be comforted My people. The Almighty has promised that Israel will be consoled, be comforted, be comforted My people. The Almighty has promised that Israel will be consoled, be comforted, be comforted My people. An optimistic air. We focus on Isaiah’s words of consolation to the Jewish people: Nahamu nahamu ami, be comforted, be comforted My people. The Almighty has promised that Israel will be consoled, be comforted, be comforted My people. Accompanied by the Hazzan and Congregation, the service concludes with a crescendo of v’ahavat eto, remembering the Almighty’s promise that Israel will be consoled, be comforted, be comforted My people. Shabbat HaGadol, the “Sabbath of the Great [One]” is the designation used for the Sabbath just preceding Passover, which was always the occasion for a “great” sage of rank to exhort the assembled congregation concerning the upcoming Passover Festival. As Shearith Israel, this Shabbat is also observed as the anniversary of the consecration of its 2nd Mill St. Synagogue Building, which was completed and officially dedicated just in time for Passover 1818.

The Three Weeks between the Fast of the 17th of Tammuz and the Fast of the 9th of Ab are a traditional period of contrition and mourning for Jerusalem and the Temple; prophetic passages of reproof and foreboding are designated as the haftarah readings on the three intervening Sabbaths. Sephardic custom is to refer to these Sabbaths by the opening words of the particular haftarah read on that day.

Shabbat Dibre is the first; its reading is the opening of the Book of Jeremiah. All three haftarot are chanted in a dirge of lament, although each ends on notes of comfort.

Shabbat Hazon refers to the opening “vision” of the Book of Isaiah, parallel to the opening prophetic vision of the book of Jeremiah which was read during the preceding two weeks. This last of the group of these three haftarot, the one which immediately precedes the Fast of (the Ninth of) Ab, is often read by the hazzan or a scholar who is “well-versed in lamentation,” as it is at Congregation Shearith Israel. This year, the fast is postponed to Ab 10th, so the Saturday of Shabbat Hazon is the Eve of the Fast, which begins at sunset on Saturday Evening.

Shabbat Nahamu: The Fast of Tisha B’EinAv is followed by the seven Sabbaths preceding Rosh Hashanah on which special Hazzan of Consolation from the end of the Book of Isaiah are chanted. The first of these is called Shabbat Nahamu, referring to Isaiah Chapter 40’s famous opening words “Comfort ye, comfort ye, my people.”

The Fast of the (Ninth of) Ab, three weeks after the Fast of Tammuz, commemorates the breaching of the Temple Mount fortifications and the dates of destruction of both the First and Second Temples. This year the 9th day of the Month of Ab falls on Shabbat, and the Fast is put off until the following day, the 10th, so that Shabbat Hazon becomes the Eve of the Fast of Ab. Saturday afternoon Minhah is held early at 3:30 pm, so that all may go home to eat their Third Meal at suppertime and begin their fast by sunset (8:22), concluding Sabbath (at 9:24) by reciting ‘barukh habamar ben kodesh lehol’ and returning to the synagogue for the Motza’s Shabbat/Fast of Ab Arbit Service, which is called for 9:20 pm. The service begins on this occasion with the hazzan reciting the blessing “bore moore haesh.” On Sunday evening, the fast is concluded with habdalah over a cup of wine, without spices and without a candle.

NEW PUBLICATIONS

We are thrilled with the number of new members and guests who have been joining us for services, classes, special lectures, and events over the past few years. In order to make our beautiful but distinctive customs, that we are so proud of, as accessible and welcoming to all, we have recently released two attractive, user-friendly publications. Pick up a hard copy at the synagogue and access them on our website anytime at shearithisrael.org/content/bulletins-and-program-guide.

A Guide For The Perplexed: A Newcomer’s Primer To Congregation Shearith Israel (2nd Edition)

Whether you are a first time visitor, a new member, or even a regular attendee of our extraordinary services, most congregants enjoy a deeper appreciation of our service and our community after they have become familiar with our unique minhag, customs, and liturgy as well as our culture and style. This booklet, conceived in a user-friendly Q&A format, was created in the hopes that you will become an active and confident participant in our service in whatever way most suits you.

Friday Night Services: A Guide To Congregation Shearith Israel’s Unique Customs (1st Edition)

Surely one of the highlights of our service is our Friday night Kabbalat Shabbat, capped by Rabbi Soloveichik’s Friday Night Lights talks. Many have told us how beautiful and inspiring these services are, but they also wish they had a deeper understanding of our service and our community after they have become familiar with our unique minhag, customs, and liturgy as well as our culture and style. This booklet, conceived in a user-friendly Q&A format, was created in the hopes that you will become an active and confident participant in our service in whatever way most suits you.

This guide is intended to help make our Friday Night Service more accessible and less intimidating for the newcomer (and even some veterans). Our hope is that when the discomfort of not knowing what to expect is removed, you will be free to enjoy, participate, and be uplifted by what surrounds you. If you have any further questions, please let us know. Your input may even help us when we issue the second edition of this guide!
The generosity of our members and friends enables us to continue to honor our past, strengthen our community and pass on our traditions for the next chapter of Jewish and American history. We have many opportunities to contribute in fulfilling our mission as a synagogue.

GENERAL DONATIONS
General donations honor our past with dignity through the preservation of our historic spaces including our main sanctuary and small synagogue, three historic cemeteries in Lower Manhattan and our active cemetery in Cyprus Hills, Queens. These donations ensure a strong future through engaging educational programs with rigorous ritual and liturgical training for youth including PTTS, our Toddler Programs, Junior Congregation, and special opportunities for girls. And perhaps most importantly, general donations uphold and celebrate our minhag and liturgical traditions through dedicated clergy members, our sublime choir, Shabbat, and holiday services.

KIDDUSH FUND
The congregational Kiddush is an opportunity for congregants and visitors to socialize and mingle after services, humbly serving an important congregational function. Sponsoring a kiddush is a beautiful way to pay tribute to a loved one, celebrate a birthday, anniversary, graduation, a personal accomplishment, or a ritual honor. It is also a great way to foster community—facilitating fellow congregants to catch up with friends, meet new members and guests, and greet synagogue leaders.

SPONSOR SCOTCH AND ARAK
In addition to our weekly Kiddush sponsors and contributors we are now also accepting sponsors for the scotch and arak that we make available each week.

RABBI’S DISCRETIONARY FUND
The Rabbi’s Discretionary Fund is a charitable arm of our congregation. These funds are designated by our rabbis for members in need and communities in crisis. This past year, our funds have assisted a number of members who have hit hard times as well as important causes such as the Houston Jewish Community recovering from flooding, the Food Bank for NYC and worthy institutions in Israel.

CLASS AND EVENT SPONSORSHIPS
Help us strengthen educational initiatives at Shearith Israel by supporting a warm and inviting atmosphere to learn, debate, and grow together as a community. Sponsor for a class, Monday Night Learning, minyan breakfast, Tuesday morning women’s class, Tuesday evening Talmud shiur or Shabbat afternoon class. Or, contribute to sponsor an event, such as academic symposiums, lectures, and discussions with Jewish scholars from around the world and maintain our synagogue as a leader in contemporary Jewish dialogue.

CARING CONNECTION
Financial contributions support efforts in proactively providing organized assistance to members of our community through times of need, one of Judaism’s greatest Mitzvot. Caring Connection raises the funds needed to defray the costs of all it does, including delivering meals to mourners and new parents. Not only does this vital assistance greatly aid the individual or family, it also strengthens and unifies our community and enhances our sense of responsibility for one another.

BEQUESTS
Please consider including Shearith Israel in your estate planning. For more information, please speak with our Executive Director, Barbara Reiss.

VOLUNTEER YOUR TIME AND TALENT
Shearith Israel belongs to its devoted members and our vitality depends on our participation and involvement. Our most successful programs and activities are those that are organized with the help of capable volunteers who bring creativity, good cheer and friends. We have a variety of committees and societies, such as our Sisterhood and Young Leadership for you to contribute ideas and energy. We also benefit from the talents and expertise of lay leaders who can help us in important projects such as historic cemetery restoration, archival upgrades, real estate projects and facilities needs, and so much more. And of course, at our core, we are a caring community and that means that providing emotional and logistical support to members in times of need cannot depend on our clergy alone but requires the care and involvement of many whether through our Caring Connection hesed committee or our Hebra. Getting involved is how you make it happen and how you forge meaningful connections at your synagogue.

Thank you for enabling the continuation and strengthening of our congregation’s mission and legacy.
